COURSE OVERVIEW

This half-day open course will give you the key principles of building effective teams at work. Through discussion, brainstorming and active participation, we'll discover how teams develop, what makes them successful and the positive effects of working in a team.

The course includes practical techniques for understanding teams and the effect they have on productivity. It is not a 'tree hugging' event!

Because this is an open course, the principles will be universal across all teams. Ask us about bespoke team building events for your own company, built around your objectives.

WHAT YOU WILL GAIN

- Understanding different people and their strengths
- The stages of team development
- Characteristics and roles of effective teams
- The four foundation blocks of teamwork
